“The opportunities worldwide for handwriting experts has never been more profound than today.”

Welcome to the premier issue our Handwriting University Catalog which includes descriptions of some of our best-selling programs and some of our latest releases. I'm Bart Baggett, President of Handwriting University International and the author of many of the books and courses we sell.

This past decade has seen people worldwide discover the life-changing benefits of learning handwriting analysis. As a result, I have personally grown in many new directions. I am sure the latest articles, videos, and live teleclasses will give you tools to make a difference in your own circle of friends.

While the core analysis tool we use in many of our programs is handwriting, you will see many other tools and applications combined with this science to assist you in changing the lives of yourself and others and even start a lucrative full-time or part-time career!

The opportunities worldwide for handwriting experts has never been more profound than today. We now have campuses training students in India, Taiwan, and the USA. Plus, you'll discover the lucrative career opportunity in the booming field of forensic document examination. If you've ever watched an episode of CSI or Forensic Files, you already have taste of the scientific side of being a "forensic handwriting expert."

I'm proud to be the co-founder of the International School of Forensic Document Examination, the only school in the world that trains non-government people in this lucrative career. Our curriculum even includes an apprentice program, allowing you to earn money while you learn and work directly with me, if you choose.

Read the Table of Contents to quickly find the new articles, latest programs, products, and information inside this catalog. And, remember to confirm you are receiving our Weekly Strokes newsletter in your email box. We are now in our 18th year of publishing our online email newsletter!

Your comments and testimonials are both welcome and appreciated and always shared with our entire staff!

what kind of person believes handwriting
analysis ?

I remember seeing an ad in a book discussing the greatest advertisements of all time. It read: "What sort of man owns his own computer?" That headline helped convince a generation that owning a home computer is a smart sophisticated, and wise decision.

It occurred to me that some people have an ignorance regarding modern handwriting analysis, just as most of the population in the 1980s had a belief that computers were only for accountants and big corporations...and useless at home. Pre-judgements and ignorance against handwriting analysis still exists and they need to be addressed and changed.

Since I started practicing handwriting analysis in 1984, the demographic of the typical person who uses handwriting analysis has changed, and the entire reach has broadened by millions of people. So I want to say to you, as a person reading this magazine, congratulations on being amongst a new breed of independent thinking people who find value in this amazing personality diagnostic tool.

First, graphology has evolved quite a bit in the 20th century. In the mid-1970s, a great number of people who played around with graphology were observed doing other tests such as astrology, tarot cards, tea leaves, and other techniques that one might call pseudo sciences, or soft sciences. It's not that those people themselves were right or wrong or that their methodologies were wrong. I'm not here to judge. I'm here to make a case for re-branding the kind of person who does handwriting analysis as sophisticated, discerning, skeptical, scientific, and educated.

Most of the people who attempted to practice handwriting analysis over the past 100 years were using second-rate methodologies full of half-truths, poor metaphors, and false data...making their attempts at getting into the mainstream difficult. Go to any library in the world and you will find graphology books with inaccurate methodologies. Some of these books are recently published, some are 50 years old. Most handwriting analysis courses simply don't have the level of accuracy, procedure, and exact effective methodology that we teach at Handwriting University International.

It is interesting that the average person practicing graphology in the 1960s and 1970s was a very tactile and sensing individual. There were a great number of women utilizing graphology and much fewer men. These individuals used graphology to get a "sense" of somebody, to get a "feel" for a character and thus the process became very subjective... as emotions are subjective. Thus, any resulting analysis and articulation about the personality profile was layered in "subjective, sensory words" rather than qualitative, scientific terminology.

The criticism from every skeptic's Web site and every supposedly scientific journal is that graphology is too subjective and lacks specificity when compared to other more widely accepted personality tests such as Myers-Briggs, DISC, etc. It is my opinion that this was true 20 years ago only because the individual analysts themselves were seeing the analysis through their own internal filters of a highly-sensory and kinesthetic individual.

When I came along and started teaching handwriting analysis in the early 1990's, my approach matched my personality type: Visual, Analytical, Non-sensory, Non-subjective, and not very touchy feely. This approach might feel tactless and cold to a highly sensory person. However, for the scientific community and a huge slice of highly intuitive visionary thinkers, this makes sense for the first time.

Can you imagine the acceptance of an entire field of human analysis being affected by the personality type of its teachers? I am not very sensory, and I'm not very kinesthetic compared to many people in my life. Those of you who have attended a seminar probably either really appreciate this personality style or you think I'm cold and lack tact. Normally, people who are low in kinesthetic attributes are high in visual attributes, which enhances my speed of processing information and painting pictures for students to learn. It is one of the strengths I have as a teacher...I see systems and how things interact with each other in ways most people don't see. Imagine a spider web of cause and effects.

Also, I value accuracy and precise words. Like a scientist, I dissected

About My Crazy Guarantee

Everybody asks me, "Bart, it's just seventeen dollars, why even give a guarantee?" Why? Because I do not care if it is one dollar, seventeen dollars, or seventeen million, I will always give you more than what you paid for. If you feel that you did not get 10 times your money's worth then I insist that you take your money back. It's that karma thing again. I offer the same guarantee on all of my programs—even the ones that cost over a thousand dollars. Full money-back guarantee. That is why we've been the world's #1 handwriting website since 1996. We have happy customers and we have integrity. My credit card company says I can legally, only give a 365-day guarantee, so that's what I do. But if you EVER want a refund all you have to do is let us know. Although refunds or complaints are rare, I have hired one person to handle customer service. Just drop us an email and we will resolve your problem or issue a refund quickly, no questions asked:

Mr. Bart Baggett, President
Handwriting University International
Los Angeles, California

Dear Mr. Baggett:

The certification course offered through Handwriting University is truly exceptional. The materials provided for the student in written, audio, and video format provide a complete and in depth study of handwriting analysis.

As a 20-year Human Resources professional with certification as a Senior Professional in Human Resources [SPHR], I have knowledge and experience in assessing employees and job applicants.

In the past, I have utilized various screening tests and aptitude tests, such as the Myers-Brigg to determine the suitability of candidates for employment. I have relied on professional and personal references to verify applicants' personality and work style.

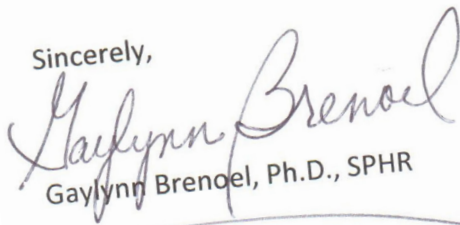

Quite frankly, I thought I had seen it all in regards to candidate selection and career counseling. I have an MBA in Management/Marketing, a Ph.D., in Business Administration, and ran my own Human Resources consulting company for nearly 6 years and therefore felt that I had all the tools necessary to be a highly successful Human Resources Professional.

In June of 2011, I conducted some research on handwriting analysis after having my own handwriting analyzed, and found Handwriting University on the Internet.

I selected Handwriting University because of its longevity and reputation and of your reputation as an expert, author, trainer, and TV and radio personality.

As a result of my taking the complete home-study course, I am now more aware of my own handwriting personality traits, and also have a beneficial new skill for assessing applicants and helping individuals reach their career and personal goals.

Sincerely,

Gaylynn Brenoel, Ph.D., SPHR

what those handwriting experts did before me into a very workable system. I also threw out false data and false ideas which were not accurate 100% of the time.

The result is a Handwriting University training system that is now translated into a very workable program where ultra-analytical people can look at handwriting and get detailed and specific data about how someone's going to behave in a specific job. This is a revolution when compared to the graphology books printed in the 1970's. The application of turning handwriting analysis from a "sensory idea" of a person into a "factual typecasting" of a person has attracted an entirely new breed of consumer interested in handwriting analysis.

The system I've created takes out the woo-woo, kinesthetic, arbitrary subjectivity of the 1970's graphology and puts in a finite system of specific terms, words, phrases, and calculations a mathematician could get excited about. But I didn't take out the emotion... just the emotion-based vocabulary.

If you're a single man looking for a girlfriend you might use graphology not only as the sorting mechanism of which person might be best for you in a long-term relationship, but you also might find that it's very useful to create a circumstance of open-mindedness and social lubrication. People tend to want to talk to you longer as the man who does handwriting analysis. You may find handwriting analysis is most useful as "an ice-breaker" for both men and women in any social scene. Naturally, this works equally well for both men and women who choose to be the center of attention as the "analyst".

One of the greatest benefits of using, learning, and mastering handwriting analysis is that you can be the leader of a social conversation. You can create a level of intimacy and lead the flow of conversation about important things in life, which otherwise might never be addressed. You can start chatter about belief systems, religion, relationships, trust, esteem, your mother, your father, what you love, what you hate, what you don't believe in, and even man's evolution on this planet. These topics are conversations that evolve from a sense of intimacy and trust.

So... the person who uses handwriting analysis today is the person who sees handwriting analysis as an accurate and valuable tool to connect with others on a personal and intimate level. He also sees it as a precise tool to use to systemize and categorize people.

& grapho-therapy your brain

How grapho-therapy works and how you can use it to change your life.

by Bart Baggett

In the last 15 years, there has been more research done on the brain than in the last 5,000 years. And now with the missile-imaging scan MRIs and certain brain imaging scans, researchers can look inside your brain and know what part of your brain is lighting up when you think about sex. They know which part of the brain is lighting up when you speak a different language. According to an article in National Geographic (March 2005), researchers opened up somebody's skull, cut a chunk out of it and pushed pins into different parts of their brain. This experiment made someone who was completely fluent in English and Spanish forget Spanish. This was done just by stimulating different parts of the brain.

Even in the early 1900s, psychiatrists would drill holes in criminals' heads to try and habilitate their wrongful behavior. Of course, they basically turned them into invalids. Many of the techniques that they still use, like electroshock therapy, make people into invalids. In other words, the criminal behavior disappears—but so does the spirit.

But they were correct in one aspect: different parts of your brain do hold clues to some of your personality. Phrenology (studying the bumps on your head) has been discredited but parts of your brain do matter. Parts of your fingers, and different parts of your handwriting, stimulate the brain in different areas. So if you're writing a figure 8, it has a certain synaptic pathway that the letter 't' or 'f' may not have.

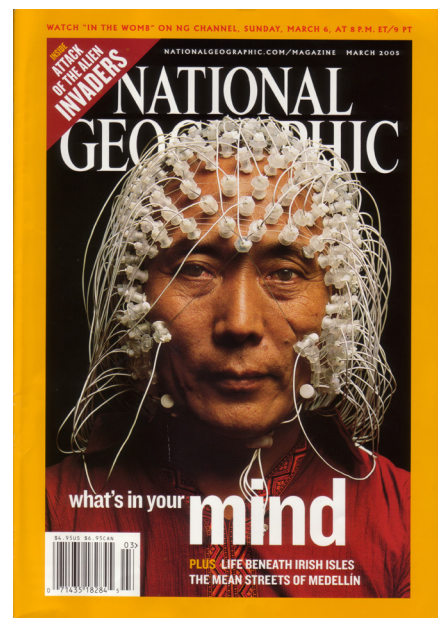

Grapho-therapy is a specific process designed to reprogram the personality through repetitive, small, micro-movements of the fingers. It's not just a process...it's a therapeutic process. So by therapeutic, we mean that it is a process designed to create change. Therapy usually means that there is an illness and a healing. A person can be in therapy even if they are not sick. Let's assume that you have moderate self-esteem and want to work on a great self-image. Either way, you are actually making changes to the physiology.

The brain is electrical in nature. Your brain is part of your body. Maybe your mind and your spirit aren't part of your body, but they interrelate. So this is a really good way to get your body moving toward it. I have been a fan of meditation, Buddhism, martial arts and yoga. I'm also a blue belt in shaolin kung fu so I've studied all over the world and learned all these great techniques to obtain a path to Enlightenment, and many people, especially in the Eastern world, believe that if you meditate long enough you will just boom!, become enlightened at some point. And essentially, when I was studying with Deepak Chopra, one of the principles he taught was "If you can think about nothing long enough, Enlightenment will come to you." And while that's true, it seems to be an inconsistent path to Enlightenment. Some people sit around meditating for 40-50 years and their life is still in shambles. Then there are some people who meditate 3-4 years and they say, "Wow, my heartbeat went down, my weight came off, I feel like I have more clarity." So there's no criticism. The human body is just amazing in so many ways. The people who don't believe in evolution say "There's no way that God didn't make the body because it's just too amazing." And that's a hard statement to argue with. The body is totally amazing. Imagine you've got your temperature and your heart rate and your brain and your eyeballs, and your eye sockets and your synaptic pathways...all that is true. But if you're attempting to have some spiritual enlightenment, and you're trying to not use this amazing body for enlightenment, that's a little myopic. Why don't you use your body? One of the things your body does so well is that it creates patterns and habits outside of your awareness. Some of those habits are not useful, but the same mechanism can help you program good habits. Just as you light great candles on a great date, if you light those candles you will remember the great date. Just like certain music, if you remember great music, when you play great music, you're in a good mood. Your body is already triggered and programmed to elicit memories and emotions based on stimulation from the rest of the world. Your body's doing it anyway. You might as well intentionally and consciously use your body's ability to stimulate and restimulate in a way that makes you happy.

One of the ways we can do that is through our handwriting. Since handwriting is a reflection of who you are, we can program it back into the body. How do we do that? There is a neurological way.

When I first heard the concept

(when I was 14 years old) back in the 80s, there weren't fancy MRIs or an advanced level of brain scans, and there wasn't an advanced level of neuro research that would suggest that your handwriting would actually have a specific neuro pathway. Since the inventions of such incredible movies like "The Secret", a great movie called "What the Bleep Do We Know?" there are tons of books on quantum physics as well as chaos theory, which say definitively that a human being's thoughts can affect atoms in space. The researcher's thoughts about a small, ultimate micro-atom, just the fact that research is observing it, can change the dynamic of the experiment. That is profound. So it's gone out of the field of simple spirituality, it's gone out of the field of the simple "self-help guide" into the field of quantum physics. And when thoughts become quantum physics, a lot of smart people begin to believe "Wow, maybe our thoughts have mass."

For at least 20 years, we have known that prayer, especially group prayer, can have a profound effect on somebody's health. That is not just reli-

Dear Bart,

Your Home Certification Course has been wonderful. I felt a real connection with the subject of handwriting analysis. I enjoyed Dr. Walker's textbook and his teaching style. I could tell by his writing that he was 100% sincere. The DVD's were not only informative, but also entertaining.

This course has really opened up my eyes to the possibilities of handwriting analysis and grapho-therapy and their potential to change lives. The depth of the material gives me more than a passing knowledge of graphology, and I feel sets me apart from what someone can do by pulling up graphology on Google. I definitely feel this course was an excellent investment, and worthy of my time.

Sincerely,

gious thought, it is statistical research that group prayer can have an effect on somebody's health. It follows that thoughts are powerful and that thoughts are not just ideas...they're energy. And they move, just like the chair you're sitting on, they move with energy.

Thoughts or energy inside the mind are neuro pathways inside the brain. They're firing neuro electricity, and repeated hand movements are a result of habitual neuro pathways. We know this now.

There's a very popular book in America right now, written by a psychiatrist whose research is profound in many ways. He has taken patients and scanned their brains, providing useful research that we're glad to have. In his research, he's even performed brain scans on subjects who were high on crack cocaine, and he says "Drugs do damage to your brain." This is useful information. Different diseases correspond to different brain areas. For instance, in depressed subjects, part of the frontal lobe doesn't have as much pathway usage in brain scans.

Now why do I criticize this doctor? Because his perception is this: The tail is wagging the dog. The frontal lobe isn't firing enough. The patient must have a frontal lobe problem. Let's give him/her medication. Let's make the psychiatrist richer. Let's make the drug companies richer because your frontal lobe's not working. "Poor boy, we'd better give you drugs."

"You're addicted to drugs because your frontal lobe isn't working. That's terrible. Let's give you more drugs." That's why I don't like his philosophy because in his philosophy, the tail is wagging the dog. The frontal lobe isn't working because the frontal lobe has a problem. The frontal lobe isn't working because of other factors in life...nutrition, spirituality, depression, etc.

However, there's no doubt that the brain scans are accurate. If you're depressed, there's inactivity in your brain. But couldn't handwriting grapho-therapy stimulate your brain? Couldn't meditation? Couldn't our questions about what makes you happy or good natured and new also have a positive effect on the part of the brain

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF YOU KNEW YOU COULDN'T FAIL?

INVEST ONE WEEKEND WITH ME AND DRASTICALLY TRANSFORM YOUR LIFE THROUGH MY TRANSFORMATIONAL COACHING PROGRAM.

This very exclusive and intimate event will supercharge your ability to achieve your goals, blast through limiting beliefs, and give you confidence and resources you need to reach that next level in your life.

During this six-week coaching program, you will receive a huge dose of self-awareness, fun, wisdom, emotional support, and detailed self-coaching systems...all cumulating in a very private weekend experience in Los Angeles with Bart Baggett-in person.

You'll get so clear on your life purpose that your ability to manifest a better life will triple...maybe quadruple once you return home. You see, this is more than a small roundtable coaching session with five other serious-minded people. This is a mental quest for more of what you really want... which starts months before you set foot in our Los Angeles training center.

In addition to having specific data you didn't have before to accomplish your dreams... Bart will personally guide you through a specific process of honing in on your life's purpose, your dreams, your desires and discovering any emotional blocks. Through the coaching before, during, and after the weekend event, you will receive very specific tangible tools to help you manifest the dreams that you've had in the back of your mind-or in the forefront of your thoughts-into reality. And we will do this in less time than you think possible.

We expect you to plan, execute, and manifest goals which you thought would take a year in less than a month.

Your self-discovery and transformation begins when you fill out the application and begin to view the "pre-event" videos and audio material. You will have access to seminar footage which has never before been released to the public.

You will start the process of self-evaluation and goal setting six weeks before the weekend event. You will have a required reading list of books which are specifically selected for you... based on your application. You will have lots of thinking, creating, writing and meditation time. Plus, Bart and his team will guide you through five weeks of live tele-classes before the live weekend event to guide you, teach you, and clarify the many new concepts which will help make you accountable for the life transformation you are wanting to experience.

Bart will help you isolate what's really important to you... and how to have more of it. This coaching event is not just about gathering new "information" or reading another "self-help book." This is a hands-on journey where you will put yourself through emotions, thoughts, and mental processes you simply can't get from a book. Plus, the final "Weekend Experience" will take you away from your everyday "grind" so that you will be able to think from a more playful, creative, free place.

And it will be a total blast!

Our team wants to be able to spend time with you personally. The reason we are requiring a handwritten application is that we want to make sure the group is cohesive. We don't want to invite ... shall we say... a squeaky wheel who wants to get all the grease in the same room as five introverts. We don't want to invite someone into our space who may distract others from achieving their purpose or from fully experiencing the targets and goals they expect.

The application process is simple. Go to www.bartbaggett.com/transformationalcoaching and download the PDF (after you enter your name and email.) Fill it out in your own handwriting and email, mail or fax it to us.

The application is designed so that you can tell me why you really want to go, what you're looking for, and why you're a good fit.

I will personally select six applicants, and if they all bring their best friend/spouse we could have up to 12 people.

I want to keep it intimate.... between 6-12 people in each session. You and I will depart as friends and you will look back at this experience as a significant turning point in your life.

I honestly feel that I can profoundly contribute to the quality of life of the few people who choose to go on this mental adventure with me. The exact dates of the next session depends on you and the other applicants ... so register early and express your interest. You will be called and your application reviewed.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO MAKE $1000 A DAY AS A COURT QUALIFIED DOCUMENT EXAMINER?

If you like the TV show CSI, you just might love a career in forensic document examination.

The number of identity thefts, probate forgeries, and forgery crimes has exploded in the past few years. Currently, there is a worldwide shortage of well-trained and qualified document examiners. Attorneys and victims of forgeries are constantly searching for qualified local handwriting experts.

The International School of Forensic Document Examination combines a sophisticated online distance learning curriculum course, an apprenticeship, and live tele-classes to train students worldwide in this career.

Plus, we have attracted the most respected and credible working document examiners in the world to be your faculty and personal case mentors.

Our graduates and faculty have worked in all 50 states, foreign countries, and are often called on by the media to provide expert opinions on the country's top news stories involving ransom notes, criminals, and handwriting issues.

During the two-year program of webinars, lab-work, tele-classes, textbook reading, mentorship, and hands-on case studies, you will learn how to spot even the most finely crafted forgery and testify in a court of law in an objective and professional manner.

This scientific process will distinguish you as a valued expert witness to attorneys and clients nationwide.

THE PROGRAM THAT ALLOWS YOU TO EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

Each month, you will attend lectures via telephone and via the Internet. You will also make a determination on the authenticity of real-life forgery cases, and discuss your findings in the live classes. You will render opinions on over 48 cases and work directly with a court qualified mentor on a minimum of 10 active cases with real clients. The apprenticeship program gives you the opportunity to learn by solving real cases under direct supervision. Once you are sufficiently trained in the fundamentals, you will solicit and handle real "active client cases". On these cases, you will work one-on-one with a faculty mentor. You will not only gain experience in solving "real cases" to build your resume, but you will also keep part of the revenue these cases generate. So, you are getting paid to learn on the job during your apprenticeship.

If you are approved by your mentor, you can apply for membership into our sister company Handwriting Services International. H.S.I. combines marketing coaching, advertising, accounting, and a directory of this country's leading experts which results in more clients hiring you directly. Just look at the many experts who are current members of the HSI career coaching program: www.handwritingservicesinternational.com. There is an additional fee to be part of the HSI coaching program, but worth 10 times the investment in new business.

HOW MUCH CAN YOU EARN?

Upon graduation you will be an independent entrepreneur. Your income will depend on how hard you work, how many cases you examine, what geographic area you want to work in, and how effectively you attract new clients through marketing.

Our graduates are routinely paid over $700 per case and all of them work with real clients before they even graduate!

Our core curriculum also includes detailed marketing and business administration classes (Module 4). This training reveals easy-to-follow successful strategies for marketing your skills, setting up a website, selling new clients, and managing your career. We even help our students get new clients through our referral network.

We recommend to our USA students to charge clients based on our standardized fee schedule, which is $795 for verbal and written letter of opinion and $1000 for a court appearance. Graduates are free to raise or lower their prices as the market dictates. Recently advertised positions for full-time document examiners range from $66,000 to more than $90,000 per year.

"First class people and first class training. Bart and Beth were always there to support me and guide me to launch my document exam business. I deeply appreciate their unyielding support to me and my new career. I highly recommend their training."

- Paul Lockyer, Australia

FINANCING AVAILABLE FOR TUITION

To help make the cost of the program manageable, all students accepted into our program will be offered a two-year financing option. Remember, you will also earn money through the apprenticeship program during your training, which can help to offset the cost of tuition.

LOS ANGELES (PRWEB) & Yahoo News —

EVIDENCE POINTS TO TRUTH IN CALIFORNIA PROBATE CASE

Bart Baggett's expert testimony revealed a forged will in the Estate of Sammie McGrue's probate case in Los Angeles Superior Court. Baggett's testimony was the last evidence needed to prove a contested will of the late Sammie McGrue was nothing more than a poorly executed forgery that failed to slip under the radar of the smart and experienced Commissioner Goetz, who handles probate cases daily.

“The court actually gave me 2 hours and a desk to study the original will before my testimony. They obviously care about the truth,” said Baggett regarding the generosity and special effort made by the Probate Department of the Los Angeles Superior Court staff on June 18th, 2009.

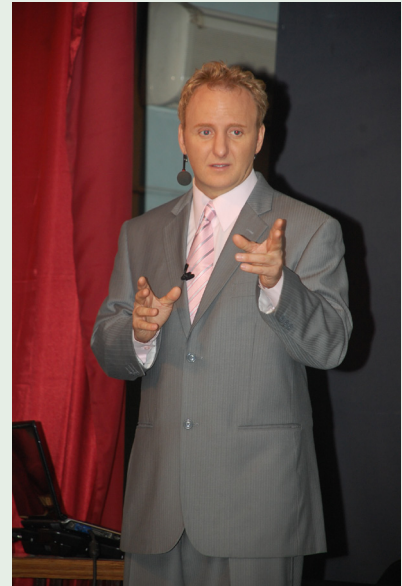

“This case is typical of the crimes my graduates and I see everyday in this line of work. In most cases which go to trial, at least one person is lying. The job of the forensic document examiner is to allow the evidence to point in the direction of the truth. We interpret the evidence and share it with the court. It is a great job when justice prevails,” said Bart Baggett, President and founder of The International School of Forensic Document Examination.

TRUTH PREVAILS WHEN EXPERTS ANALYZE FORGED DOCUMENTS

It is believed that someone forged Sammie McGrue's signature on a false 1993 Last Will and Testament. Despite presenting the court with a color photocopied “original”, the fake will utilized 2008 version legal forms and a notary seal issued in 2006. In other words, part of the 1993 will was actually created on software and documents which did not exist in 1993 and the perpetrators of the crime left the copyright notice on two of the forms. It is even believed the notary of the document perjured herself on the witness stand and is in fear of losing her notary license. “There is no doubt the notary committed perjury on the witness stand today,” said Barbara Brunner, a witness in the case and owner of Paralegal Probate Service.

The Commissioner was quick to see the evidence clearly and guided the beneficiaries to find a honest and fair settlement of the estate. There was no valid will, so the estate will be split equally among the children. Howard Lynch, the attorney who successfully contested the fake will said, “Submitting a forged will to the court is serious business. I'm glad justice prevailed today, but criminal charges could be filed in a case like this.”

STUDENTS GIVE STRONG PRAISE FOR FORENSIC EXAMINATION SCHOOL

“Scope and depth. I enjoyed the lectures, books, and sample cases, and live telephone coaching sessions with expert teachers who are working in the field. I totally recommend the International School to anyone who wants a new career in the field of forensic document examination.”

that makes you happy. Absolutely. But you can't sell that in a pill. That's why I don't think this research is complete because he's not actually addressing the root cause.

Handwriting is brainwriting. Our thoughts travel along neuro-pathways. And finally, this is a huge awakening and I believe this phrase was coined in the movie "What The Bleep Do We Know?" about neuro-physicists and quantum physics: What gets fired together gets wired together.

To illustrate this point: A little girl and her poodle Fluffy are walking along the train tracks, and she hears the sound of a train. She turns around and sees the train and gets out of the way just in time to see her dog Fluffy get flattened by the train. Now she grows up and she's sitting on the porch with her boyfriend, they're having a romantic evening and she hears a train whistle. What happens? She gets anxiety. She's got to leave. She feels uncomfortable. And she sweats. What if she had a poodle and a train whistle at the same time on that date? That date's over. And by the way, she's never owned a poodle again. It's upsetting that Fluffy is not really Fluffy anymore.

Why did a train whistle and a poodle trigger the emotion of anxiety in her physiology 20 years later on that date? It got imprinted.

Imagine that you have a phone switch. All the phone lines are different. What if you took a wooden log and lit it on fire and let all the wires burn together. What would happen? It probably wouldn't work. But most likely if it did work, you would lift the phone, and all your neighbors would hear your conversation because all the wires would melt into each other. If you follow the logic, that's what happens in your brain. There are two elements to trigger or anchor a profound emotion. That's why smell makes you remember things years later. The smells are unique and it's intense. So it will recreate an intense emotion such as love or joy, the stimulation has to be unique like the train whistle and it has to be intense. Most negative anchors or emotional triggers are things that your re-active mind has an issue with. They're negative because negative is intense. So negative emotions get re-stimulated by certain things.

What we want to do is program positive things. So we could just change the handwriting, right? But what if we changed the handwriting while playing your favorite music? How about your

GRAPHO WEB 2.0 PROFESSIONAL SOFTWARE

Written by Bart Baggett, this software assists you in creating a written report in minutes, not hours. The software generates a 4-8 page written analysis using the writer's first name and key traits in an easy-to-read report format. You, the analyst, input the key traits and then edit to perfection in any word processing program. I recently charged $600 to an international business man for such a report on his ex-wife. My total time using the program was under 90 minutes to generate an eight-page report with customization.

(Note: The Grapho-Web 2.0 computer program for Mac or PC is NOT SOLD separately. Anyone attempting to earn a living selling handwriting analysis, and who desires the computer program to increase his/her income, needs the information in the marketing course as well... it is substantially unique and valuable, even to an already successful handwriting analyst. At this time, in order to get the Grapho-Web 2.0 program, you must invest in the entire Level 401 Marketing program.)

Handwriting analysis helps you see how people may best fit into your life. In some cases that means they don't fit into your life at all. There are many people on the planet at many different levels of spiritual evolution, different mental and emotional intelligence, and simply at different stages in their life. Everybody won't fit into your world; you need a mechanism to sort them out. You have this mechanism with handwriting analysis.

An 18-year old will have values that are very different than a person who is 65 years old. There are many different people using handwriting analysis. If you're one of those people using it to connect with others, to open a conversation about what's important, and to gain intimacy or to give people a tool for self awareness and self evolution, then you're definitely one of the people who I'm writing to. You are the kind of person using handwriting analysis in the 21st century. You and I could be friends. We see eye-to-eye.

You're one of the people who I want to sit down with over dinner and talk about more than just handwriting. We should talk about who you are and how we can be here on this planet. We should chat about modern religion and psychology and why people believe what they believe. We can chat about the spiritual evolution of humans and if we as a race are getting smarter.

If you're curious about the state of humanity and our role in it, you are the kind of person who uses handwriting analysis today.

ISN'T IT TIME YOUR SIGNATURE REPRESENTS WHO YOU REALLY ARE?

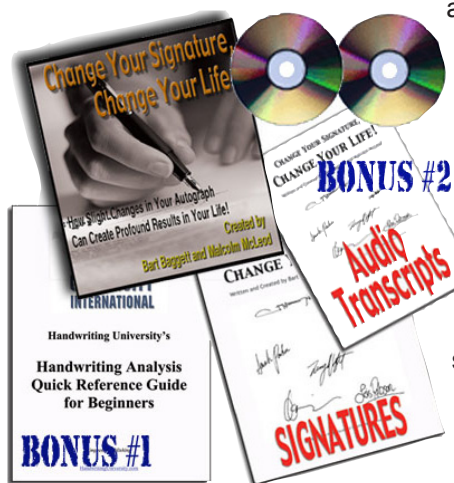

If you have ever wondered what your signature is telling the world... now is your chance to discover what everyone else already knows. In fact, most people pick up on "trouble traits" at the unconscious level, and never even articulate it. So, you might have been showing the world your insecurities, fears and defenses... just by signing your name.

Presenting the "Signature Makeover" Program based on proven psychological & graphotherapy techniques that will give you the "edge." All you ever wanted to know about creating a perfect autograph is right here. Not only can you change your signature, but also you can change your life in the process.

This online two-hour course, presented by Bart Baggett and Australia's number one handwriting expert, Malcolm McLeod, teaches you how to make over your signature so that it's the best it can be. It isn't just a cosmetic makeover to make your signature appear more legible, more attractive, more trustworthy and more powerful. It is the first BIG step in changing yourself to remove self-sabotaging habits and program success traits. Changing your signature will actually affect your leadership skills, your self-esteem, your ability to make more money and your ability to have better relationships.

“I love your course on signatures. It is useful, organized and comprehensive. Recently I've given many speeches about handwriting analysis. All the audiences ask me the same ONE question: What does my signature reveal about me? Well, I guess this course answers that question in detail. The way you and Malcolm analyze is unbelievably powerful. It is the beauty of handwriting analysis. Thanks for a useful and powerful program.”

favorite classical music, say Mozart? When you are doing the workbook, may I suggest that you do it using music with no words. Why? Because I don't want you programming a particular word into your brain that may not have something you want. You may be listening to Britney Spears' Life is a Circus, and I'm not sure that's the programming you really want for your 12-year-old girl. Mozart's music is actually proven to have a certain beat to increase retention, and increasing retention actually makes you learn faster. An experiment was done playing Mozart music, as well as rock and roll (specifically AC/DC) to a bunch of plants. After three weeks, the plants got the same amount of sunlight and the same amount of water, but one group of plants was growing rapidly and one group was turning brown and dying. Which one do you think grew? The plant listening to Mozart. Not because it was better music, but because it has a rhythm which matches the cadence of growth vs. the cadence of angst. You can write anything you want and reprogram the brain. But what if you wrote about your most profound and passionate dreams about life? What if you got yourself in a really happy place while you did so? I'm going to be rich and famous, I'm going to have a beautiful relationship, a great family, be healthy til I die, anything you want.

Yes you can change your handwriting. Yes, it will work. Would it work better if you wired different things on top of the neuro-pathway? Wire love, wire excitement, wire passion, wire ambition...wire all that into the same neuro-pathway. And tell yourself "I think I can." There was a child's book called The Little Engine That Could. This was my favorite book. After being so enamoured with The Little Engine

That Could at age four, it is no wonder that I have a big cross in my t-bar that is persistence. Using that mental dialogue would be really good mental dialogue to have "playing" while you're changing your t-bar. Now when you write your t-bar two years later, what's going to unconsciously come back into your brain? I think I can, the emotion, the smells, the music. Even if it's unconscious, it will stimulate. And every time you write for the rest of your life, the programming that you did intentionally now pays off by restimulating in positive and powerful ways. You can actually use your brain to stimulate yourself later in life because right now your life could be going great. Now you've got the energy and you can program and go to the gym and you can do the mental gym. And a couple of years later if a loved one passes away or you have some hardship, all of a sudden your brain is going "You can, no you can, no it's good, you're healthy", and every time you write, you feel good. Even though you're having bad times, your propensity to survive those will be much easier.

2012 ADVANCED MASTERY COURSE

BECOME CERTIFIED AS A MASTER LEVEL HANDWRITING ANALYSTS
DISCOVER NEVER-BEFORE-TAUGHT ADVANCED ANALYSIS & GRAPHO-THERAPY TECHNIQUES NOW AVAILABLE THROUGH THIS NEW ADVANCED COURSE.

This course is full of never-before-published information! It will fill in the gaps of knowledge, clear up any confusion, and explain in vivid detail any expectations and errors you might have been making using basic graphology principles. The concepts and strategies of stacking traits is so powerful that you will wonder how you ever analyzed writing without it.

Expand your knowledge of graphology, psychology and grapho-therapy at all levels. It is an step-by-step course that will change your life and give you the ability to CHANGE OTHERS' lives through the advanced techniques that take you way beyond where the Level 301 left off.

You must be a Certified 301 Level Graduate to fully comprehend and excel at the material covered in this new certification level program. We require that you already know the basic 90+ traits in the Certification Course, and this course will teach you another 25+, not including the powerful "evaluated traits".

In 2006, we offered the first ever "advanced course live event" and some of the key lectures are included here on the videos and CDs. However, in 2011, Bart Baggett built a completely new curriculum and held an invite only "Advanced Mastery Event" to complete the Advanced Certification Level training which makes up the bulk of this new home study course. In addition to trait stacking, special topics such as health in handwriting, therapy, verbal analysis, written reports, and even how to use handwriting in a counselor's or hypnotist's office. If you own the previous version of the "2006 Advanced Course Seminar DVDS", call our office for a discounted upgrade to the new Mastery Certification Version. This is an entirely revised advanced home study course which includes a Certificate of Advanced Mastery upon completion and testing.

Bart Baggett hosts the videos and features many famous Handwriting University staff members and world class guest speakers. The two seminar Manual is a collection of golden information that you can't find anywhere else on the planet. You will swear that the manual alone is worth the price of the entire program! Plus, when you complete the 200 questions and essays which make up the comprehensive Course Packet... you will be ready for your Advanced Certification and finally feel you have mastery over all areas of handwriting analysis and grapho-therapy.

SPECIAL ADVANCED TOPICS INCLUDE:

*Evaluated Traits & Complex Trait Combining.

CHANGE YOUR LIFE IN 30 DAYS GRAPHO-THERAPY JOURNAL

FOR AGES 13 AND OLDER CREATED BY BART BAGGETT

The concept of changing your handwriting for personal transformation is called grapho-therapy. It is very powerful, simple to do, and it works. Use this workbook to change your personality and even eradicate bad habits.

Recently, research performed in the field of neurology and brain chemistry has revealed new evidence that this technique has scientific validity beyond the psychosomatic power of suggestion. MRI scans have located specific areas of the brain associated with specific finger movements. It's possible to create new "neuro-pathways" in your brain intentionally by using repetitive movements from your fingers (handwriting). We have seen results from this form of self-administered handwriting therapy for the past 25 years.

Each day, you will feel the difference as you answer questions about your life in the journal. You can achieve permanent and specific personality changes in 30 days!

You can easily raise self-esteem, eliminate sensitivity to criticism, overcome fears, develop trust, and more with the exercises in this workbook. It is recommended for anyone dealing with these personality issues:

- Low Self-Esteem
- Self-Sabotage
- Bad Temper
- Not Finishing Projects
- Too Sensitive to Criticism

- Too Self-Conscious
  - Fear of Rejection
  - Fear of Trust and Intimacy
  - Fear of Failure
  - Lack of Organization
  - Self-Deceit
  - Pessimism/Poor Attitude
- And many others!

The one-hour bonus MP3 audio file (download from the internet) explains about all the reasons grapho-therapy will work for you and takes you step-by-step through the workbook.

Twenty Plus years ago, before I wrote my first book, I taught personal improvement seminars nationwide. The one concept that seemed to have the most profound effect on participants was (and still is) grapho-therapy. This workbook is the application of this tool.

It doesn't matter what your goals are: growing a rose garden or winning an Olympic gold medal, certain traits support you in attaining your dreams. Knowledge and awareness alone are not enough to make lasting changes. If the changes aren't "wired" into the brain, the changes usually don't stick. If you have ever been to a "pump you up" motivational seminar, you

"In less than a month after changing my handwriting the way Bart suggested, things started to happen. I got rid of an abusive boyfriend, got better grades, and met my fiance. That was six years ago. The changes have helped me accomplish two degrees and a wonderful relationship. As a bonus, it was easy."

—Christian Chrane
Dallas, TX

"I have already seen and experienced wonderful changes through grapho-therapy. People at work now seek me out as an expert in my field, and I have had many recent offers to manage important projects. All this happened in about a month from first raising my t-bar!"

—Diane McCafferty, Engineer
Sandy Hook, CT

know what I mean. As soon as the excitement wears off, so do the new habits. This journal makes it stick.

Creating a neurological connection and using repetition are the best methods to assure a high percentage of success. Handwriting is a direct connection to your thoughts.. it is brain writing.

To support long-term changes, I designed a "Change Your Handwriting Workbook." The response has been so positive. Seminar participants loved the structure, insight and daily activity that the workbook provides. The workbook also assists you in charting your goals and objectives for the coming days, months and years. It is also a journal that gives you insight into yourself.

This workbook is appropriate for anyone older than 12 years old. Younger students should use the "kids" workbook, which contains larger lines on which to write. (see pg. 27). This workbook is NOT an instructional "textbook" about handwriting analysis or grapho-therapy. You should use it only after familiarizing yourself with basic handwriting analysis traits or working with a Certified Instructor.

CHANGE YOUR HANDWRITING, CHANGE YOUR LIFE

WORKBOOK FOR KIDS

DAILY HANDWRITING JOURNAL FOR KIDS 6-12

This new technique, called grapho-therapy, is based in the two credible sciences of handwriting analysis and neuro-linguistic programming. This workbook for kids is the first time this powerful technique has been available to children. The results you will witness are simply phenomenal.

In a nutshell, your child will simply practice specific handwriting strokes each day until they become a habit. As your child works through each day of the 30-day workbook, new neuro-connections are formed in the brain while new muscular movements are taught to the hand.

At the same time, on the conscious level, questions are answered about life, family, money, and the future, creating a new foundation for what is possible in the world. All the while, unconsciously through the handwriting changes, new behavior patterns are being formed. Your child will discover new ideas of what is possible while establishing strong internal beliefs about his or her self-worth and place in this world.

Would you like to improve your child's self-esteem, confidence and grades? In 30 days or less, you will notice that your child will experience...

- Improved focus
- Increased energy
- Longer attention span
- Improved self-esteem
- Improved mental clarity
- Higher levels of self-

confidence

- Fewer fears
- More legible handwriting
- Even higher grades

How? A new psychological technique uses the child's own handwriting to program specific thought process and behavior. The latest breakthrough using the 100-year-old science of handwriting analysis has been developed to reprogram the unconscious mind just writing a few minutes per day in cursive handwriting.

This is a workbook daily journal which contains a bonus 30-minute MP3 audio download that explains the process.

WHAT IF YOU COULD DOUBLE YOUR INCOME IN THE NEXT 30 DAYS?

THIS AUDIO CD PROGRAMS YOUR MIND TO MAKE IT HAPPEN

If you are not as wealthy as you want to be, you probably have been missing opportunities to earn more money because of mental conditioning. This could be costing you thousands, if not hundreds of thousands of dollars. This program explains how to use your "internal filtering" system to attract money and wealth. Customers tell me, within days, even hours, of using this program, they see immediate results in cold hard cash. You will be surprised at how easily extra money starts showing up in your life.

Thoughts do create reality and this program is a "laser focused" listen-and-learn technique to change your thinking as it relates to money. It doesn't matter what career or job you have now or how much (or little) money you are making currently. Your mind has the power to open new doors and find creative ways to earn money-if you will allow it. This mental imagery programming CD unlocks those doors and breaks down limiting beliefs, using the power of neuro-linguistic programming (NLP), hypnosis and time line guided mental imagery.

As a bonus, you can listen to the audio "Discovering Your Internal Time Machine" anytime in the future to instill ANY goal or desire into your unconscious mind. Plus the "Belief Blaster" track is a powerful bonus that can help you change core beliefs.

"Bart, I have only completed the first CD so far. However, let me say that this CD alone is worth its weight in gold. Just using the concepts of asking the right questions of yourself and "adding zeros to your thinking" alone are enough in my view to increase one's income. Using these concepts I booked a state hypnosis show that I performed last weekend in Minneapolis and was paid the highest fee I've ever earned for such an engagement. I can't wait to see what happens when I complete the rest of this powerhouse audio program."

GET RID OF UNWANTED WEIGHT EFFORTLESSLY AND PERMANENTLY

THE NATURAL WAY TO LOSE WEIGHT USING THE POWER OF HYPNOSIS

Hypnosis is your "golden key" to unlocking your ideal body shape and size!

Even if every other weight loss program has failed, hypnosis will work because it uses the one area other programs neglect - your subconscious mind!

Using the powerful and proven methods of hypnosis and neuro-linguistic programming (NLP), you can reprogram your mind and body to release weight effortlessly and permanently! Imagine yourself at your ideal size and shape...Feel it. Picture it. Do it. It IS possible. This program will guide you every step of the way.

It will work for you just as it has worked for thousands of others in my live seminars and at home over the past 14 years using audio tapes and CDs. They have become thinner, healthier, and they've kept the weight off!

Furthermore, unlike other methods that you may have tried before, this method will help you change your eating and exercise habits virtually instantly... with no anxiety, no food withdrawals, and without switching from overeating to some other destructive habit!

This is a proven system with a strong track record of success. Our trained and certified hypnotherapists and NLP practitioners have conducted over 1,000 seminars in more than 50 cities throughout the U.S. Personally, I've guided over 10,000 people to change their destructive health and eating patterns (and to stop smoking, instantly) since I started conducting Release Weight Seminars in 1989. These proven techniques have worked for thousands of others... they will work for you.

The entire "Release Weight" course is available for you to download or listen to online at your leisure.

You will also receive the FREE e-book bonus: "Release Weight the Natural Way."

CRUISE THE WORLD FOR FREE TEACHING HANDWRITING

DISCOVER THE LITTLE-KNOWN SECRET TO TURNING YOUR HANDWRITING
ANALYSIS SKILLS INTO AN ALL-ACCESS TICKET TO SEE THE WORLD

IMAGINE YOURSELF traveling TO THE WORLD'S MOST EXOTIC
DESTINATIONS ABOARD luxury CRUISE SHIPS...
JUST BECAUSE YOU CAN TEACH HANDWRITING ANALYSIS

If you have ever wanted to go on a 7, 10, or 14-day cruise, but couldn't afford the ticket... this is your chance to cash in on your handwriting knowledge.

Cruise ships need "enrichment" speakers to entertain and educate the passengers while the ship is at sea. Did you know there is a severe shortage of qualified handwriting analysts to teach classes on board ships right now? Each week, dozens of ships leave ports without you, because they don't know you are willing and qualified to teach a few simple classes during your journey.

How do I know this to be true? I get calls each month from cruise ship agents looking for qualified handwriting teachers to go to sea! Plus, I've done it myself, and helped friends to do the same.

Every time I talk to my cruise booking agent, she says "When are you going to send me more handwriting analysts to go on the other cruises? I have one for the Bahamas, one for Mexico, one to Russia, etc. Give me more people to call."

I recently took an amazing fall cruise to Alaska and all I gave them were four one-hour lectures on handwriting analysis. Then, the following week, one of our certified graduates took the same Norwegian Line ship to Alaska and gave the same four lectures using my PowerPoint slide presentation. She had NEVER given a handwriting lecture before and the audience loved her. All she did was talk about the images on the projected screen. A free trip to Alaska is as easy as pie. Climbing a 10,000-year-old glacier is optional.

So, I've decided to offer my FOUR complete color presentations in Microsoft PowerPoint, along with the complete Cruise Ship Training Kit, which explains the step-by-step method for getting yourself booked as a "guest lecturer" aboard cruise ships worldwide. Listen to the audio instructions, follow my step-by-step instructions, and you will be traveling the world practically free! Just plug the disk into any computer and you are set to go. (All ships have LCD projectors available.)

Who qualifies for this package? Anyone who is competent enough to teach a one-hour class on basic handwriting analysis. You must be enrolled in at least the Level 301 and preferably the Level 401 Certification Course* or have similar qualifications from another handwriting school.

Where can you travel? You can travel anywhere cruise lines go. The cruise line gives you and your travel companion two free tickets (meals included), in exchange for your four lectures. Your only expenses would include souvenirs, upgraded dining, shore excursions, any travel to the port of embarkation and possibly an agent's booking fee (if applicable). Most seven day cruise ship packages sell from $999-$3999 per person, so even if you spend 20 bucks a day, you're still getting a very sweet deal.

If you can teach basic handwriting analysis, a cruise ship audience is waiting on your skills. Cruise ships leave ports every week worldwide, 52 weeks of the year.

Here's What You Get:

- One 45 minute Audio CD revealing the ins-and-outs of the process
- One computer CD for PC or MAC with four PowerPoint presentations (You must have Microsoft Office to run PowerPoint)
- The limited rights to use the above

- presentations in your own live lectures
- Class handouts in PDF format which you can adapt for yourself or use as models to create your own
  - The names and contact information of four different booking agents who specialize in cruise line speakers
  - A complete follow-along "Special Report" with scans of tickets, phone scripts, agent info, letters, on-board newsletters, instructions, and all the resources you need

Thank you for making it sooo easy to start cruising the High Seas teaching handwriting analysis. My Mom and I took a 10-day cruise through the Caribbean and it cost us less than $28 per day. I loved teaching the four handwriting classes using your Power Point. So easy, just plug in and start talking. What a great, practically free vacation!

TESTIMONIALS

Alana Gorfaine, Las Vegas, Nevada

"This conference was awesome, it's hands on, and getting feedback from others around you. It's one of the most fascinating things you can learn about in life and it even helps you understand a lot about yourself."

"I am very happy that I made this investment. The experience has been great, and enrolling in this program has been one of the smartest things I have ever done."

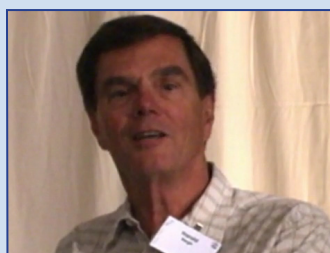

—Brenda Boelhower, Student, Dayton, NJ

"Your course has been so much fun. It is just as accurate in foreign languages as it is in English. And, yes, Italians "line-up" to get their handwriting analyzed too! Thanks for giving me a tool that is changing my life!"

—Paolo Algruez, Italy

"Bart is the best teacher I've ever had for any subject. He's really genuine, he really wants to help people, and he's not just some distant figure at the front of the room. We had a lot of group sessions at this conference and it was definitely worthwhile."

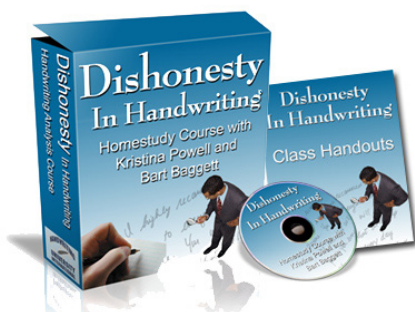

—Cindy Cheaves
Birmingham, Michigan

"I would have to say that this is the best material on understanding personality and personality traits that I personally have ever seen. Don't think about what you might do with it, because you will discover things you've never thought about. You will also learn some things about yourself."
